"THE STRANGEST MAN IN AMERICA"

He Writes in 35 Hours the Story of His Long and Marvellous Life

THE BOOK ALMOST READY

"He was once the best known American on the face of the globe.

"He organized the clipper ship line that sailed around Cape Horn to San Francisco and made American shipping lead the world.

"He organized the Credit Mobilier and the Union Pacific Railroad.

"He was one of the organizers of the French Commune.
"He built the first street railway in England.

"He has been the business partner of queens, emperors and grand dukes, the familiar friend of the greatest people of the earth.

"He has been in jail fifteen times, from the Tombs to a Bastile, and never committed a crime.

"He has made more than seventy ocean voyages. He has broken the around-theworld record three times.

"He formerly lived in a villa and spent $2,000 a week in maintaining it. Now he lives in the Mills Hotel, at a total expenditure of $3 a week.

" He is Citizen George Francis Train.

"In one respect, at least, it is probably the most remarkable autobiography ever written. It contains more than 100,000 words and Mr. Train dictated it in exactly thirty-five hours.

"Citizen Train wrote this wonderful story of a wonderful life on the top floor of the Mills Hotel, where he occupies a room possibly eight feet long and six feet wide, and where he receives his callers with a dignity, a graciousness and native hospitality that would be in keeping with the fine homes he used to live in. He has lived in that room for four years, ever since the hotel was built. It has a single bed, a dresser, a tiny table, one chair and half a dozen paper boxes."

-From an article in the New York "World," October 12th, filling one entire page.

Citizen Train's book, under the title

MY LIFE IN MANY STATES AND IN FOREIGN LANDS

will be published Nov. 1; $1.25 net; eight full-page illustrations

A History of the American People

By WOODROW WILSON, Ph.D., Litt.D., LL.D.

President of Princeton University

President Woodrow Wilson has devoted the best years of his life to the preparation of his great work, "A History of the American People," from the earliest times to the accession of President Theodore Roosevelt. The work, which is just completed, is monumental in character and scope, represents the genius of the greatest historical thinker of modern times, and is written in that delightfully flowing style which makes it read like a romance. It is printed from new type specially cast in 1902. In the matter of illustrations, every field of human activity has been searched, and hundreds upon hundreds of new portraits, prints, maps, plans and pictures make the pictorial features alone tell their wonderful story of the finding of the continent and the birth and growth of what is the United States of America. There is a photogravure frontispiece to each volume, and portraits in India tint and black. It is a curious fact that there is not a single complete history of the United States in existence to-day. Dr. Woodrow Wilson's is the first. In 5 vols., 8vo, Library binding, uncut edges, gilt tops (in a box), per set, $17.50 net; % calf or % levant (in a box), per set, $30.00 net.

The Reign of Queen Anne

By JUSTIN McCARTHY

Author of "A History of Our Own Times"

This history of the life and times of Queen Anne is a very fitting introduction to the series of the author's popular histories of England, her men, manners and events. The age of Queen Anne is one of the most brilliant in English history—the time of Addison, Swift, Steele, Bolingbroke, and the great Marlborough. The history is in two volumes, uniform with the author's "Reminiscences." 2 vols., cloth (in a box), $4.00 net.

Winslow Plain

Bu SARAH MeLEAN GREENE

Author.of" Flood-Tide," "Vesty of the Basins," etc.

The scene is laid in a quaint little New England village fifty years ago. It is a story of the life of that time in New England, with a fascinating love interest told from start to finish with the bright, witty optimism and true comedy that all readers enjoyed in the author's "Flood-Tide." The work of the author has already met with wide appreciation both here and abroad. This new novel will be received with special interest by all readers. $1.50.

The Deserted Village

(Abbey Edition)

By OLIVER GOLDSMITH

This is the most beautiful edition of this work of Goldsmith's ever issued. It is exquisitely illustrated from paintings by Edwin A. Abbey, R.A., which first appeared in Harper's Magazine. There is a frontispiece of Abbey, introductions by Goldsmith and Austin Dobson, and copious annotations by Cunningham. Royal8vo, bound in silk cloth, $3.00.

An Old Country House

By RICHARD LE GALLIENNE

The story of the plans and ambitions of two young people who are happily married and who finally acquire and fit up a little country house according to their own ideas. It is not only a most delightfully written story of country life, but one of the most charming love stories of recent fiction. Beautifully illustrated with paintings in tint and color by Elizabeth Shippen Green. Printed in two colors, leather back, decorated sides, and gilt top (in a box), $2.40 set (postage extra).

The Red House

By E. NESBIT

This is a delightful story of the honeymoon and the funny experiences of a young married couple who from "love in a cottage "come into an extensive country estate. Their difficulties and adventures in settling their new home, the love affair after marriage of the two young people, are told with rare charm and humor. Illustrated by Keller. $1.50.

GEORGE HORTON

IMMEDIATE SVCCESS

The American city life has been "done" in fiction before, but never with the same pano-ramic completeness or the same degree of con-vincing vitality. The book is likely to be the chief topic of literary comment in local circles for some time to come.

RECORD-HERALD.

BY GEORGE HORTON

Those who read the book must find a cleverness and felicity of phrasing, a profound knowledge of the tendencies of the times and a searching into the human heart for motives and sentiments which raise the book high above all Mr. Horton's earlier fiction.

FRANCEZKA

By Molly Elliot Seawell

Author of "The History of the Lady Betty Stair," "The Sprightly Romance of Marsac," etc., etc.

FROM A DRAWING BY HARRISON FISHER FOR "FRANCEZKA."

THIS is Miss Seawell's longest and most important novel. There is no character in fiction more lovable and appealing than is "Francezka." Miss Seaweil has told a story of youth, splendor and tragedy, with an art which links it with summer dreams, which drowns the somber in the picturesque, which makes pain and vice a stage wonder. The book is marked by the same sparkle and cleverness of the author's earlier work, to which is added a dignity and force that makes it most noteworthy. Delightfully illustrated by Harrison Fisher.

SCRIBNER'S NEW BOOKS

PUBLISHED OCTOBER 18th

Cross Country with Horse and Hound

By Frank Sherman Peer. Fully illustrated in color and black and white by J. Crawford Wood. Large 8vo, $3,00 net, postage 25 cents.

A work of full scope and authority, the first to be published in America on this fascinating sport. The author is a cross-country rider of unusual experience, a member of a prominent New York State Hunt, who has enjoyed, beside, the experience of riding to hounds in England and France, as well as Canada; bringing to his task an unusual experience, also, in breeding, rearing and schooling hunters, together with extensive observations of packs of hounds at home and abroad.

The American Merchant Marine:

Its History and Romance from 1620 to 1902

By Winthrop L. Marvin, Associate Editor of the Boston Journal. 8vo, $2.00 net, postage 22 cents.

It has the interest of a romance, especially the chapters dealing with the East India trade and with the whaling fishery. The serious value of the work to the student of the problems which confront American shipbuilders is not easily overestimated.

A Fighting Frigate and Other Essays and Addresses

By Henry Cabot Lodge, author of "The Story of the Revolution," etc. $1.50 net, postage 12 cents.

A volume of sane, illuminative writings on these subjects:

A Fighting Frigate.
John Marshall.
Oliver Ellsworth.
Daniel Webster—His Oratory and His Influence.
The Treaty-Making Power of the Senate.

Three Governors of Massachusetts:

Frederic T. Greenhalge.
 George D. Robinson.

3. Roger Wolcott. Some Impression of Russia. Rochambeau.

What a Girl Can Make and Do:

New Ideas for Work and Play

By LINA BEARD and ADELIA B. BEARD, authors of "The American Girl's Handy Book." Profusely illustrated. 8vo, $1.60 net, postage 16 cents.

An admirable collection of entirely new and original indoor and outdoor pastimes for American girls, fully and interestingly described and explained by these sympathetic writers on what girls may accomplish. Many of the undertakings described result usefully. Still others are purely pastimes of a novel and entertaining kind. The illustrations are especially intended to make clear the processes described and the results aimed at.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE CENTURY COMPANY have been obliged to defer the publication of "Confessions of a Wife," until October 22 to meet the extraordinarily large demand on first orders.

MCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. are already out of print on Tarkington's "The Two Vanrevels," of which they only printed 70,000 N. Y., December first.

copies. The pressmen's strike has interfered with their getting out enough to supply the re-orders, but they ask the indulgence of customers, and announce that by the middle of next week they will be able to supply all demands.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT Co. have three fine works dealing with life in the early American republic. "The True History of the American Revolution," by Charles Fisher, gives the real facts of the days of 1776; "New York—Old and New," by Rufus Rockwell Wilson, gives the story of New York as told by its landmarks; and "Social Life in the Early Republic," by Anne H. Wharton, promises to rival in popularity her "Salons Colonial and Republican;" and "Through Colonial Overways." Clara E. Laughlin's "Stories of Authors' Loves," in two volumes, will make a very popular holiday book.

L. C. PAGE & Co. have just issued in the Music Lovers' Series a volume on "The Organ and Its Masters," by Henry C. Lahee, giving a short account of the most celebrated organists of former days, as well as some of the more prominent organ virtuosi of the present time, together with a brief sketch of the development of organ construction, organ music and organ playing. The volume contains fourteen portraits and other illustrations. They have also just ready a good story for young people in "The Little Colonel's Hero," by Annie Fellows-Johnston, with music by Albion Fellow-Bacon and illustrations by Etheldred B. Barry.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish to-day "Cross Country with Horse and Hound," by Frank Sherman Peer, a member of a prominent New York State Hunt, who has also ridden to hounds in England, France and Canada; "The American Merchant Marine: its history and romance from 1620 to 1902," by Winthrop L. Martin, associate editor of the Boston Journal; "A Fighting Frigate, and Other Essays and Addresses," by Henry Cabot Lodge; and "What a Girl Can Make and Do," by Lina and Adelia B. Beard, who give new ideas for work and play, fully illustrated, in the style of their "American Girl's Handy Book."

Bowen-Merrill Company will publish this month a novel entitled "Francezka," by Molly Elliot Seawell, who has gone once again to her much beloved France and to the brilliant time when Maurice of Saxe sought the throne of Courland, when beautiful Adrienne Lecouvreur swayed emotional Paris and Monsieur Voltaire divided his time between palace and prison. In those eventful days Miss Seawell's heroine—Francezka Capello—is made to live and love. The book has been illustrated by Harrison Fisher, who has done so much fine work for this firm. This firm will have four book plays on the stage this season. Effie Ellsler succeeds Miss Marlowe in "Knighthood," and Gertrude Coghlan takes Miss Harned's place in "Alice of Old Vincennes," while Otis Skinner has just scored in the initial performance of "Lazarre" and Cecil Spooner will make her debut as a star in "My Lady Peggy," opening at Brooklyn, N. V. December first

The aim is to present, through a knowledge of descriptive geometry, those principles which are fundamental in the solution of both theoretical and practical problems; and by a formulation of these principles, to place upon a mathematical basis the rules and formulas commonly used in practice. The method of presentation, which has been developed and tested during fifteen years of experience in the class room, seeks to introduce and substantiate each principle by reference to the simplest form of magnitude.

 The incidents of the novel grow out of a bet made by a German newspaper man, that he will spend a year as a farm hand among the peasants of Styria, his aim being to prove his theory that the peasant is a man of cleaner morals than the city man. He obtains a situation, after considerable experience in tramping, on a farm, and it is his daily perience in tramping, on a farm, and it is his daily letters from here to his editor-in-chief that make the book.

OCTOBER 18, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—Lord Bacon,

POPULARITY OF AMERICAN FICTION.

RECENTLY the Record-Herald of Chicago asked the question: "Are the possibilities of large sales becoming more and more clearly confined to American novels?" Eighteen publishers replied to this query and their opinions are about evenly divided between the affirmative and the negative, the Western publishers leaning towards the affirmative. A. C. Mc-Clurg & Co. believe that the Colonial and Revolutionary section of the country is "worked out" as material for novelists, but think that Western America still offers the novelist material for stories that will have all the possibilities of large sales. Bowen-Merrill & Co. are of the opinion that any well-written novel well advertised has a chance of achieving large popularity, but also believe "that the pride in things American, which is now so manifest, would probably give some preference to a work by, a native author dealing with a subject which concerns us here at home." The opinion that the American novel is "supplanting the English more and more rapidly all the time" is held by Doubleday, Page & Co. and Henry Holt & Co. of New York; L. C. Page & Co. of Boston; and J. B. Lippincott & Co. and George W. Jacobs & Co. of Philadelphia. D. Appleton & Co. say that the very large selling books of late years have been exclusively novels, and most of them novels written by Americans; but, even during that time, the novels of Kipling, Hall Caine, and Gilbert Parker have been among books having phenomenal sales. They do not believe any novels will reach the sales of the past years because "the public is fast learning to divide its interest in books in-more interest in lighter kinds of history and in biographies to the exclusion of some fiction. Harper & Brothers, The Macmillan Co., G. W. Dillingham & Co., McClure, Phillips & Co., G. P. Putnam's Sons, Little, Brown & Co., and Lee & Shepard, all incline to the opinion that nationality of the author has very little to do with the sale of the book. The gist of their answers seems to be that America has the largest reading public in the world, and that it is a public able to distinguish good from less good which takes a book on its merits and gives little thought to the birthplace of the author.

The impression is general that the phenomenal sales of books are over, and that they were largely due to the generous advertising of the American publishers. It must also be remembered that during the years when American historical novels were so popular the English were not publishing so extensively owing to wars and the unusual fascination of newspapers for the average reader. All the world loves a good story, but perhaps the free libraries will little by little educate the people to demand more substantial literature.

Our own opinion, based on interested observation for many years, is that not one novel reader in ten or perhaps twenty has any idea of the nationality of an English-writing author, and that patriotism has nothing whatever to do in the selection of fiction by the average consumer.

THE office cat at our printer's, last week, seems to have mixed up the advertising pages of our "Trade List Annual" and substituted the one used before date of publication in which we offer to supply the work at $5. As our readers must know both through later advertisements and circular letters, the price of the work was raised on October I to $7 for the Catalogues and Index volumes together, and to $2 for the Catalogues volume and $5 for the Index volume if either is desired separately.

Lippincott & Co. and George W. Jacobs & Co. of Philadelphia. D. Appleton & Co. say that the very large selling books of late years have been exclusively novels, and most of them novels written by Americans; but, even during that time, the novels of Kipling, Hall Caine, and Gilbert Parker have been among books having phenomenal sales. They do not believe any novels will reach the sales of the past years because "the public is fast learning to divide its interest in books instead of concentrating it." They also look for

We congratulate Mr. Loveless upon his share in raising the standard of the Board. In our intercourse with his office we have always found Mr. Loveless well informed, prompt to act and courteous and cordial withal. Board and the trade having relations with it may well be proud of so able an officer. May he be blest with years and strength to continue in service for another generation.

THE SOUTHERN BOOK PUBLISHING COMPANY.

To satisfy the curiosity of a number of our readers concerning the Southern Book Publishing Company, recently incorporated at Atlanta, Ga., we quote the following editorial by Tom F. McBeath, in the Florida School

We note from the Atlanta daily papers that our old friend Chase, the irrepressible promoter, is at it again, this latest scheme being the creation-on paper-of a big book concern to be called the Southern Book Publishing Company, capitalized at $250,000, to be located at Atlanta, Ga., and to undertake the publication of text-books dealing in an impartial way with the South during the Civil War period. A petition for charter has been filed, and a long list of incorporators is given. A petition for charter has been filed, Florida is represented among the incorporators by a Mr. John T. Lesley, but who Mr. Lesley is, where he lives and what he does, we have been unable to discover. Diligent inquiry has failed to find anybody in Florida that ever heard of him. If not a myth he is an exceedingly obscure reality.

The prospectus of the proposed concern sings the same old worn out song about the partiality of text-books and the discrimination of publishers against Southern talent, etc.,

Now we have no objection to the establishment of book concerns anywhere, and would hail with delight the setting up of a great publishing house in the South, as adding to her business and material prosperity; but as a self-respecting Southern man-a Southern man by birth, breeding, education, instinct and prejudice-we must protest against all such attempts to trade in Southern sentiment and to coin cash out of such pusillanimous whines about partiality against the South and discrimination against Southern authors-all of which we look upon as an insult to Southern intelligence and a slander upon Southern manhood. In this connection, the following editorial from a recent issue of the St. Louis Republican can be read with profit—referring as it does to another of Brother Chase's schemes:

"Mary Johnston, Thomas Nelson Page, George W. Cable and Joel Chandler Harris must have read of the convention of Southern authors which was held in Charleston recently with some misgivings and no little amusement. If the objects of this convention are secured the above-named writers will soon be shelved. "It is interesting to note what these so-called literary men and women assembled in Charleston proved, at least to their own satisfaction. A statistician showed them that the great publishing houses had placed a boycott on the work of Southern authors. After counting the number of volumes issued under the names of writers from the Northern States this statistician demonstrated that the South was far in the minority, both in the number of accepted manuscripts and the 'hits' of the sea-

South was far in the minority, both in the number of accepted manuscripts and the 'hits' of the seasons.

"This failure to get into print, agreed several of the Charleston speakers, was resulting in a 'literary lethargy' in the South. Genius crushed to earth threatened to rise no more. Northern prejudice exerted through the medium of the publishing houses is fatiguing the baffled and rebuffed spirits of writers below the Mason and Dixon line.

"The emergency is great enough to call forth heroic efforts, if these neglected authors are to be trusted. In order to revive the literary spirit in the South it was announced at the convention that a publishing house will be established in Atlanta with a capital of $5,000,000. Each Southern State will have a representative on the Board of Directors and a 'strong body of business men' will assist in making Southern literature a staple and handy commodity on the bookshelves of the world.

"All of this would be very fine if the dream would come true. There is one fatal mistake in the premises of the convention. In these days no publishing house or clique of publishing houses boycotts an author. They are non a hunt for exceptional work. If they are fooled in gauging the public taste, it is their own fault and regret.

"Perhaps the fact that 'David Harum' was refused by a number of publishers may be called a boycott, but the firm which did publish that unique book literally hit upon a 'bonanza'. Likewise the firm which issues Winston Churchiil's novels does not do so from any philanthropic motive, but because the public will buy them.

"These Southern authors, if they really are authors, should learn that publishing houses are in the business for money. Art is secondary. This rule, after all, is no credit to them. Let the Charleston insurgents once catch the public ear through the medium of any publisher and they will have no cause to complain. There can be no 'trust' in the production of popular literature. The people fix their own standard and the publishers cater to this s

PORQUET-AN OLD-TIME PARIS BOOKSELLER.

THE news comes of the death of Porquet, the well-known bookseller at No. 1 Quai Voltaire, Paris, at an advanced age. Neither his age nor his given name was ever known, we believe. He was Porquet to the world and his constituents just as his assistant was Amadée. For seventy years Porquet kept a bookshop in Paris, most of that time on the Quai Voltaire. In his time Porquet, as erudite as he was popular, superintended the sales of some important libraries, such as those of the Comte de Behange, the Marquis de Gamay, the Baron de la Roche Lacar-elle and M. Lignerolles. For fifty years his only assistant was Amadée, who was a specialist like Porquet himself, who was wellknown to many book lovers, and with whom the Duc d'Aumale never failed to shake hands when he looked into the shop on the Quai Voltaire. Porquet would never have his shop lighted by gas and rarely kept it open after dark. His only recreation after he shut up his shop was to go to the Comédie Francaise to witness one of the classical plays, for he abhorred the Romanticists and the Realists. The old bookseller had presented the Comédie with a very rare edition of Molière, published in 1666. In return he was allowed a permanent free seat in the leading playhouse.

COPYRIGHT IN OLDEN TIMES.

Dr. Karl Dziatzko, of the Göttingen University Library, according to the London Athenaum, has been making a study of the question whether the book system of classical antiquity had any law for the protection of the rights of authorship. His reply, as was to be expected, is virtually in the negative. That is to say, neither of the two ways by which books came into circulation—the book trade and the custom of private copying—was barred by any law. Anybody was free to copy parts or the whole of a book which came into his hands, whether for his own use or for presentation to a friend, or even with the intention of commercial profit.

Only in the case of the first edition of a work is there the slightest shade of any legal protection of literary property. To offer for sale an original work without the sanction of the author made the intending trader liable to a suit of injuriarum actio. If, however, a certain work came into circulation through copies imparted to a circle of friends before the author had publicly made himself known as its author, he was able to protect himself against the premature competition of the book traders by announcing publicly that he had made changes in his text and that none of the copies in circulation was authentic. After such an announcement to the book trade no more rolls of the earlier edition could be legally sold.

AMERICANS START PAPER MILL IN ENGLAND.

W. J. ALFORD, of Anderson, Ind., representing paper mills in the West, in New York and in Massachusetts, is at present in England to establish the Thames Paper Company, recently incorporated in New York. This is the first attempt, we believe, made by Americans to invade a field that has hitherto been successfully held against all competitors. Indeed, for many years English paper manufacturers of the better grades of paper have successfully competed with American manufacturers of similar grades.

Later the Thames Paper Company intends to establish paper mills on the American plan, operated with American machinery by American workmen in Germany and in France. The experiment will be watched with considerable interest by all concerned.

SALES OF THE TAUCHNITZ EDI-TIONS.

The Author recently suggested to Baron Tauchnitz, the publisher, that his terms to writers whose works are reprinted in his famous Tauchnitz editions might be improved upon. The Baron replied by producing figures which show that the circulation of the various books produced by him is far smaller than is generally supposed. A sale of 3000 copies of a book is considered good and 5000 very good. A circulation of 10,000 has been obtained only in six cases out of 800 in the last ten years.

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

THE AMERICAN PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIA-

The American Publishers' Association as lately reported is steadily growing in membership. Since we last published a list of the firms enrolled, fifteen or more new members have been admitted and a dozen or more are awaiting action upon their applications. Among these are The Oxford University Press, Thomas Nelson & Sons, and E. & J. B. Young & Co., of New York; A. J. Holman & Co., The National Publishing Co., The American Sunday-School Union, and The John C. Winston Co., of Philadelphia; the United Brethren Publishing Co., Dayton, O.; The Herbert Co., Washington, D. C.; The Open Court Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill.; and H. A. Dickerman & Son, of Boston. Some of the leading manufacturers of non-copyright books are also considering applying for membership. Below we give a list of the firms now enrolled as members:

It will be seen that practically every publishing house of any account whatever is on the side of reform, so that the bookseller need no longer be in doubt whether or not he may be able to obtain a representative stock of books to supply the demands made upon him by his customers. At any rate any bookseller may by this time know who is for or against him and lay his course accordingly. He must, however, also bear in mind that the success or failure of the movement depends in some measure upon his own individual attitude towards it. If he be slow to report violations of the rules, or if he be lax in the strict observance of them himself, the movement will suffer by just that much. By individual integrity, loyalty and vigilance only can co-operation in this case hope to succeed.

THE PITTSBURG BOOKSELLERS AND STATIONERS.

THE Pittsburg Booksellers and Stationers held their regular quarterly meeting on Tuesday evening, October 14. While several of the members were waiting for the elevator they heard a piercing shriek, and a man grasping for something that was not there shot down the shaft from the eighth floor, striking with terrific force, crushing his head and breaking his neck. It proved to be the engineer of the building, who had been making some repairs on the elevator. The occurrence cast a gloom over the meeting, which was called to order by the president, Charles H. Clough. After the usual routine of business, which included the revision of some stationery prices and a talk on the book situation, the annual election was held, which resulted in retaining last year's officers, as follows: Charles H. Clough, president; H. Lee Mason, Jr., 1st vice-president; F. G. Stieren. 2d vice-president; Jacob Henrici, recording secretary; Harry F. Davis, corresponding secretary; Wm. A. Sellers, treasurer.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

BRUNO HESSLING, New York City, is the publisher of a monthly publication for architects and builders bearing the title Der Baumeister, giving yearly about 120 full-page plates and many cuts in the German text.

THE November issue of The World's Work contains "America versus Europe," by Andrew Carnegie, who was recently elected Lord Rector of St. Andrew's University, the first American citizen to receive that honor since James Russell Lowell. The recipient must deliver a lecture on a subject he considers a most vital one, and Mr. Carnegie will deliver a lecture on the above topic on October 23, which The World's Work has been fortunate enough to secure.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MARGARET SIDNEY, (Mrs. H. M. Lothrop,) has had a long and honorable literary career. Her famous "Pepper Books," which have delighted children of the United States for quarters at 245 Broadway.

more than twenty years, are constantly in demand and show no wane in popularity. Her new Pepper book this year, "Five Little Peppers Abroad," is fully the equal of anything she has done in the past, and the demand for it at the present time is so brisk that it bids fair to run ahead of the earlier numbers of the series. Mrs. Lothrop resides in that hallowed shrine of literature, past and present, Concord, and her house there is the famous "Wayside" of Hawthorne memory. Here she attends to her property, does her literary work, and enjoys the reward of a long and honorable career in the making of wholesome and telling juvenile books.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

J. F. TAYLOR & Co., New York, announce a sixth imprint of the "Billy Burgundy Letters," by O. V. Limerick. This book was published in July and seems to have jumped into favor with the trade and the public at once.

THE dramatization of Miss Johnston's novel, "Audrey," will be put on the stage at the Madison Square Theatre, New York, November 18. The play will have a short run on the road previous to the New York engagement.

E. P. Dutton & Co. will publish shortly a volume entitled "Kentucky Poems," by Madison Cawein, with an introduction by Edmund Gosse; also, "The Primrose and Darwinism," a theoretical work on wild flowers, etc., by a field naturalist.

HERBERT S. STONE & Co. will issue on the 18th inst. a new novel by R. V. Risley, the author of "Men's Tragedies." The book is called "The Life of a Woman," and it promises to duplicate the success of some of the other books issued by this firm.

Bruno Hessling, New York City, has ready Volume L of Adolf Hoffmann's "Municipal Buildings of Modern Berlin," with total views and details, (interior and exterior,) fully measured, containing fifty plates in folio size done up in portfolio.

J. S. OGILVIE PUBLISHING Co., New York City, will publish October 25 "Robert Emmet, the Irish Patriot," by George Morehead; "The Fat Mascot," a collection of baseball stories by Robert Rudd Whiting; and "The Left Side Man," by Margaret Blake Robinson.

Forbes & Co., Boston, will issue about November I a new volume containing about one hundred of Nixon Waterman's cheerful verses, entitled "A Book of Cheerful Rhymes," which is said to be even more full of good cheer than "A Book of Verses," so favorably received two years ago.

CRYPTOGRAPH COMPANY. Providence, R. I., publishes "The Simplex Cryptograph," which furnishes a complete and simple means of absolutely secret communication. It will say anything on any subject, and is published in a neat 24mo cloth bound volume that can readily be carried about in travelling bag or coat pocket.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just ready the books fully noticed in last issue, including "The History of the American People," by Woodrow Wilson; "The Reign of Queen Anne," by Justin McCarthy; "Winslow Plain," by Sarah P. McLean Greene; "An Old Country House," by Richard Le Gallienne; "The Red House," by E. Nesbit; and the Abbey edition of Goldsmith's "The Deserted Village."

Owing to numerous inquiries, Isaac Pitman & Sons, 33 Union Square, New York City, beg to announce that the present edition of the Isaac Pitman Shorthand Dictionary is now entirely sold out, and that the new Twentieth Century edition will not be ready until December 15. This work, which is the eighth edition, will be considerably enlarged, and will contain the shorthand out lines and key for over 65,000 words. There will be no advance in price.

C. M. CLARK PUBLISHING COMPANY have in preparation a new novel by Dwight Tilton, entitled "On Satan's Mount." "Miss Petticoats," put out under the same pen name, is still in as great demand as when first published. The mystery surrounding the identity of the author or authors is still as dense as it was, though that is owing we suspect to the fact that the searchers after "Dwight Tilton" wander too far away from the publishers' offices.

STREET & SMITH have just ready "The Red Shirts," by Herbert E. Hamblen, a volume full of excitement and information regarding the old Volunteer Fire Department of our large cities. It describes the old "fireman's ball," and "picnic" and "annual parade," of which the younger generation know nothing, and will appeal to every old fireman who once "ran with a machine" and did deeds of bravery unsurpassed even by their better trained but scarcely more courageous or warm-hearted successors.

CUPPLES & LEON, 156 Fifth Ave., New York, have made arrangements with The New York American and Journal for the exclusive sale in the United States and Canada, in book form, of the following well-known comics: "The Katzenjammer Kids," "Happy Hooligan," "Alphonse and Gaston," "The Tigers" and "On and Off the Ark." The books contain 40 pages of illustrations by Opper, Swinnerton, and R. Dirks. The date of publication has been fixed for November 1, and the retail price will be sixty cents each.

G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY have ready "The Kiss of Glory," by Grace Duffie Boylan, a narrative of the life of Joseph, the son of Jacob; "Richard Wyndham," a story of the present day, by Frances Gordon Fane; "Lionel Ardoss," by Malcolm Dearborn, of which the plot plays in the time of Henry vIII.; and "A Sleeping Memory," by E. Phillips Oppenheim, a story which deals with reincarnation, or a succession of totally different lives here on earth. All three books have sustained interest from start to finish.

Jamieson-Higgins Co., Chicago, will issue in November in one volume, edited by Elia W. Peattie, "Poems You Ought to Know," which have been appearing daily on the front page of the Chicago Tribune and have been very much spoken of. The volume will have 150 drawings by Ellsworth Young, printed in different tint from the text and will be bound in red silk cloth with rich gold cover design. The publishers also announce large second editions of "Old Mother Hubbard;" "Moon Children;" and "Yankee Mother Goose," the three color books which have been such pronounced successes.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. will publish immediately Una L. Silberrad's new novel, the title of which has been changed from "The Story of a Success" to "The Success of Mark Wyngate." It is the story of a man whose devotion to science has made him keen and self-sufficient but incapable of love. The man, with his unexpected relations to a woman, is said to be a no less striking creation than "The Lady of Dreams," nor less humorous than "Princess Puck"—the two most successful of the same author's former novels. They have just brought out the second volume of their elaborate seven-volume Variorum edition of Fitzgerald's works, which contains the "Rubaiyat," the second edition of "Salaman" and other writings.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have in preparation an important history of Madame de Pompadour, by H. Noel Williams; "A Life of Turner," an elaborate and authoritative work on the life and work of one of England's greatest painters, by Sir Walter Armstrong, who has succeeded in discovering a good deal of wholly new material; a second volume of Theodor Gomperz's "The Greek Thinkers," which deals especially with Plato and Aristotle; "Hegel's Logic, an essay on interpretation," by John Grier Hibben, Professor of Logic in Princeton University; also, "New York Sketches," a series of charming sketches of the great city in its full tide, by Jesse Lynch Williams, with drawings by R. M. Carter, Jules Guerin, Everett Shinn, W. R. Leigh and others.

T. Y. CROWELL & Co. have just issued an extra illustrated edition of "Famous Composers," by Nathan Haskell Dole, a handsomely made book in two volumes in warm red cover, containing biographies of noted musicians from Palestrina to Wagner, and showing portraits of almost all. The work is boxed and has a festive, holiday appearance. A holiday edition is also ready of "Famous Artists," by Sarah K. Bolton, with forty illustrations, most of which are tone reproductions of noted portraits and other masterpieces of art; a new novel by Amy Le Feuvre entitled "A Daughter of the Sea," with scene laid on the coast of England, and illustrations by Piffard; and "Whispering Tongues," a story of student life at Union College, Concord, by Homer Greene, dedicated to Prof. William Wells, known and loved by many generations of Union College students.

Funk & Wagnalls Company have just issued "The Sons of Glory," studies in genius, by Adolfo Padovan, translated and adapted from the Italian by the Duchess Litta Viscomte Arese, who refutes Lombroso's gloomy theory that genius is "neurosis, or a form of epilepsy," and considers a man of genius sane in the superlative degree. Dante, Beethoven, Michael Angelo, Socrates, Galileo, Columbus, Julius Cæsar, Napoleon I., all these he says had superabundance of nervous energy, but not of an abnormal or perverted quality. "The Searchers" is a novel by Margaretta Byrde, a new writer whom the Pall Mall Gazette does not hesitate to compare with Charlotte Brontë and Thomas Hardy; and "The Insane Root," by Mrs. Campbell Praed, tells a story in which the legend of the mysterious power of the mandrake root furnishes the basis of the plot.

D. APPLETON & Co. have just brought out a new book by Vice-Versa Anstey entitled "A Bayard from Bengal." The supposed author of the book is Mr. Harry Bungsho Jabberjee, and he attempts to tell in Indian English ("Baboo") of the efforts of Chunder Bindabun Bhosh, Esq., to adopt English manners and customs, whose ludicrous adventures are illustrated by Bernard Partridge. On the back of each illustration the "author" hammers the illustrator. In short, the book is a satire on Indian Princes in London. They announce a Theatre edition of Hall Caine's "The Eternal City," revised, condensed and adapted by the author himself, with eight half-tone illustrations from the play. They half-tone illustrations from the play. have also just printed the 100th edition of "David Harum." This book was first put on the market September 23, 1898. In January, 1899, 15,000 had been sold. Six months later the total sales were 194.750, and six months after that, January 1, 1900, the books showed a sale of 412,750 copies. Since then the sales have progressed as follows: July 1, 1900, 460,750 copies; January 1, 1901, 501,500 copies; July 1, 1901, 517,500 copies; January 1, 1902, 537,000 copies; July 1, 1902, 652,000; and on the 1st inst., 666,000.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. will publish immediately "Life the Interpreter," a story by Phyllis Bottome, dealing with social condiin the East End of London." In press there are Mrs. Max Müller's "Life of Max Müller;" "Mallet Du Pan and the French Revolution," by Edward Mallet; and "The Gos-pel in the Christian Year," parochial sermons from Advent to Trinity, by Randolph H. McKim, Rector of Epiphany Church, Washington, D. C.; "Response in Living and Non-Living," by J. C. Bose, describing experimental investigations on animal, vegetable, and inorganic substances and their response to stimulus; "The Theory and Practice of the English Government," by Thomas Francis Moran, of Purdue University; "Financial History of the United States," by Davis R. Dewey, a new volume in the American Citizen Series; "Rural England," by Rider Haggard, in two volumes, containing investigations into the agricultural and social state of English counties; "The Making of Our Middle Schools," an account of the development of secondary education in the United States, by Elmer Ellsworth Brown; and two new volumes of Longmans' English Classics: Irving's "Oliver Goldsmith," edited by Lewis B. Semple; and Scott's "Lady of the Lake," edited by George Rice Carpenter. Also nearly ready are "The Discovery and Decipherment of the Tri-Lingual Cuneiform Inscriptions," by Arthur John Booth; "The Analysis of Steel Works Materials," by Harry Brearley and Fred Ibbotson; a new story by Edna Lyall, entitled "The Burges Letters," a record of child life in the sixties; "Alick's Adventures," by G. R.; and "Chubby: a Nuisance," by Mrs. Penrose.

THIS WEEK'S NEW NOVELS

MARK LEE LUTHER'S New Political Story

THE HENCHMAN

By the author of "Favor of Princes," etc.

Mr. LUTHER'S charming lightness of touch shows no lack of either underlying strength or the essential practical knowledge of detail in the rise of an adept political intriguer to national prominence. The book will captivate many a man who has his own views as to the effect of politics on character, and as to the influence of women in the political field, for there are two women prominent in its story which touches love as truly as politics.

The JAMES K. HACKETT Edition of Mr. WINSTON CHURCHILL'S

THE CRISIS

Illustrated, Cloth, 12mo, $1.50

This theatre edition has grown out of the success of the play based on this most popular novel. Its frontispiece is the latest portrait of Mr. HACKETT, and there are also some eighteen full-page illustrations showing the best scenes in the play and portraits of the leading members of the cast.

OTHER FICTION JUST READY

A Key to Books in Print

The users of THE PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL for 1902 will be interested to learn that the

Index Volume

is now ready. On the following pages we present sample pages of the Index volume as an illustration of its scope. The books of the 246 publishers who this year have contributed the lists bound up in alphabetical order in the Catalogues volume, are indexed, it will be noticed, by author, title and subject catchword, furnishing, by means of 140,000 entries, ready reference to the books of the leading publishers in print on July 1, 1902, and to forthcoming books of which they could furnish information in August. The Index volume and the Catalogues volume of

will be found the most useful, as well as the least expensive, single book trade reference work yet issued, especially for the booksellers and small libraries who cannot afford to buy many trade tools. Price, $2 for the Catalogues volume and $5 for the Index volume, or $7 together, absolutely net.

The Catalogues volume is a huge octavo, probably the largest volume now issued, reaching, with 1902, 5700 pages, being 8½ inches in thickness and weighing 20 pounds. Directions for enclosure delivery in New York should accompany the order, unless shipment is to be by express at the charge of the subscriber.

The Index volume, an octavo of 1114 pages, will be sent on approval to any bookseller or library enclosing 10 cents for partial postage. Of the Catalogues volume less than 300 remain unsubscribed, and the edition of the Index volume is also limited. Address,

MARY JOHNSTON'S AUDREY

THE continued demand for "Audrey" seems to indicate that Miss Johnston's books have come to stay. "Audrey," "To Have and to Hold," and "Prisoners of Hope" are all novels worth re-reading and possessing, and no bookseller should be without a supply during the Holiday Season.

The dramatic production of "Audrey," under the management of Liebler & Co., this Fall, will still further increase the demand for a book which has been called "The high water mark of romance."

The Century Co.'s New Fiction

Aladdin O'Brien

The New Novel by Gouverneur Morris

Author of "Tom Beauling"

A charming, powerful love story, with humor and pathos playing hide-an'-seek through its pages. It is full of intense and novel situations and told in the strikingly original style of this young author. $1.25.

Napoleon Jackson

The Gentleman of the Plush Rocker By MRS. RUTH MCENERY STUART

The author of "Sonny" has here written one of her best stories of Southern life. Beautifully illustrated by Potthast, —pictures in tint. $1.00.

Barnaby Lee

The New Story by the Author of "Master Skylark"

In "Barnaby Lee" Mr. John Bennett gives us a capital story of New Amsterdam in the days of Peter Stuyvesant. With 34 full-page illustrations by DeLand. $1.50.

A New "Human Document" Biography of a Prairie Girl By ELEANOR GATES

A delightful description of a little girl's life in the Northwest twenty-five years ago. It is full of local color and adventure and written in a quiet, sympathetic way true to child nature. $1.50.

The Year's Great Hit Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch By ALICE CALDWELL HEGAN

"The success of Alice Caldwell Hegan's 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch' rejoices the souls of dignified bookmen who cling to tradition and resent the 'booming' feature of the modern publishing business. 'Such successes,' said one of these men the other day, as he patted a copy of 'Mrs. Wiggs' lovingly, 'make me hope that we may yet be saved.'"—N. Y. Sun.

Just So Stories

By RUDYARD KIPLING

Illustrated by the Author

"THACKERAY, WHO COULD NOT DRAW BETTER, nor mayhap as well, fused life and authenticity into his characters with pictures that are destined to immortality. The 'Just So Stories' are full of humorous conceits and laughable incidents, to keep the nursery in a roar; and the older folks will enjoy them fully as well and read between the lines a message addressed to themselves."—N. Y. Herald.

"Kipling's new book is nothing less than A LITTLE MASTER-PIECE. It is as much a work of genius as any of his more ambitious performances. To begin with, he starts with an idea calculated to fascinate a child at once. . . . inimitable verses and pictures that will take the nursery by storm. Never was there a book for children to surpass this. IT TAKES PLACE BESIDE 'ALICE IN WONDERLAND,' with Tenniel's illustrations, as a classic, which generation after generation of children will prize as a source of flawless joy."—N. Y. Tribune.

"The 'Just So Stories' have a direct appeal to the grown-up in the same way that certain scenes and episodes in 'ALICE IN WONDER-LAND' have. This book will appeal to all admirers of Mr. Kipling, and to some who have not reached that stage of development."—N. Y. Evening Sun.

"The pictures present a new phase of Kipling's genius."—N. Y. American.

"Another triumph for Kipling—when he writes for children he is at his happiest and best."—Brooklyn Eagle.

"Worthy to rank with the best of the 'Jungle Tales.'"-Chicago Evening Post.

"This is to be a Kipling year."-Buffalo Express.

A.J.HOLMAN AND CO., PHILADELPHIA.

N a spirit of conservatism we printed in advance only 70,000 copies of "THE TWO VANREVELS." We should have foreseen a larger immediate sale for the new novel by the author of "MONSIEUR BEAUCAIRE" and "THE GENTLE-MAN FROM INDIANA." By day of publication (October 2d) we had sold 58,000 copies. In ten days the re-orders began to come in, the latest for 5,000 copies. At this rate we shall be out of print before this gets into print.

The pressmen's strike so complicates matters that we must ask indulgence for delay on re-orders, with the assurance that by the middle of next week we shall be able to supply all demands.

McClure, Phillips & Co.

Whitaker's Reference Catalogue.

We are now prepared to supply the "Reference Catalogue of Current English Literature," better known, perhaps, as "Whitaker's Reference List."

The work is arranged on the plan of "The Publishers' Trade List Annual," and contains recent lists of 179 of the more important English publishers. An index is prefixed to the lists containing 135,000 references to the books catalogued. It thus forms one of the most complete records of current English books accessible to the bookseller and librarian.

The work is in two volumes of about 5000 pages, strongly bound in half leather. The price has been fixed at $5.00 net.

As the copies received for the American market are limited, we need hardly remind intending subscribers of the wisdom of placing your order without delay.

HALL CAINE'S

"The Eternal City"

THEATRE EDITION

Revised, Condensed and Adapted by HALL CAINE himself. With Eight Half-Tone Illustrations from the Play now Running to Crowded Houses in this Country and London.

Extract from Mr. Caine's new preface:

"Being now on the point of producing the drama in England, America, and elsewhere, and requested to prepare an edition of my story for the use of the audiences at the theatre, I have thought myself justified in eliminating the politics and religion from my book, leaving nothing but the human interests with which alone the drama is allowed to deal."
